

LivingWorks safeTALK is a half-day, in-person workshop that empowers you to recognize when someone may be thinking about suicide, talk with them directly and connect them to life-saving support. Through hands-on practice and guided learning, you'll build the confidence to have open, honest conversations that can make all the difference.

By completing this training, you'll become a Suicide Safety Connector - someone who helps strengthen the Network of Safety - a growing community of trained Helpers ready to notice, respond and link others to care.

Everyone has a role to play in building suicide-safer communities, and LivingWorks is here to support you with training for every role.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

You don't need to have all the answers – you just need the skills to notice, talk and connect someone to safety. LivingWorks safeTALK equips you with the confidence and tools to be that vital connector. You'll learn to:

- Recognize when someone may be having thoughts of suicide
- Understand how personal and community attitudes toward suicide can affect openness to seek and provide help
- Reach out with care and talk openly using a simple, proven four-step model
- Help them KeepSafe by connecting them to further support and resources

LivingWorks safeTALK strengthens your role in the Network of Safety – ensuring more people are ready to notice and respond when it matters most.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

LivingWorks safeTALK is recommended for anyone aged 15+ who wants to help promote suicide safety in their communities. No previous training or experience is required. Whether you're a student, co-worker, teacher, parent or community member, LivingWorks safeTALK gives you the tools to play a vital role as a connector for your friends, family and community.

HOW WILL YOU LEARN?

LivingWorks safeTALK is delivered in a safe, supporting learning environment, guided by certified LivingWorks Trainers.

You will learn through:

- Trainer presentations, interactive discussions and hands-on practice
- Videos that show what can happen when signs of suicide are missed – and how outcomes change when recognized and addressed
- Opportunities to explore how LivingWorks safeTALK can be applied in your workplace, school or community

Open, honest discussion about suicide is encouraged – helping you prepare to talk directly, connect with confidence and guide someone toward safety.

WANT TO LEARN MORE?

Since its inception, more than 900,000 people worldwide have been trained in LivingWorks safeTALK – making a difference in schools, workplaces, families and communities. Research continues to affirm the value of this training.
